These frameless Eco-Sound® noticeboards can be installed on walls and ceilings, in office furniture systems, as decorative tiles and even finished products. The big advantage with the unframed boards is that several boards can be grouped side by side to cover a larger area, particularly useful in environments where noise is higher, and they can be mounted either portrait or landscape format.

These are the most cost-effective product in the range, and once mounted to the wall give an appearance of clean lines and crisp corners and are easy to fit with a wall fixing kit supplied.
